

Norwegian Environment Agency

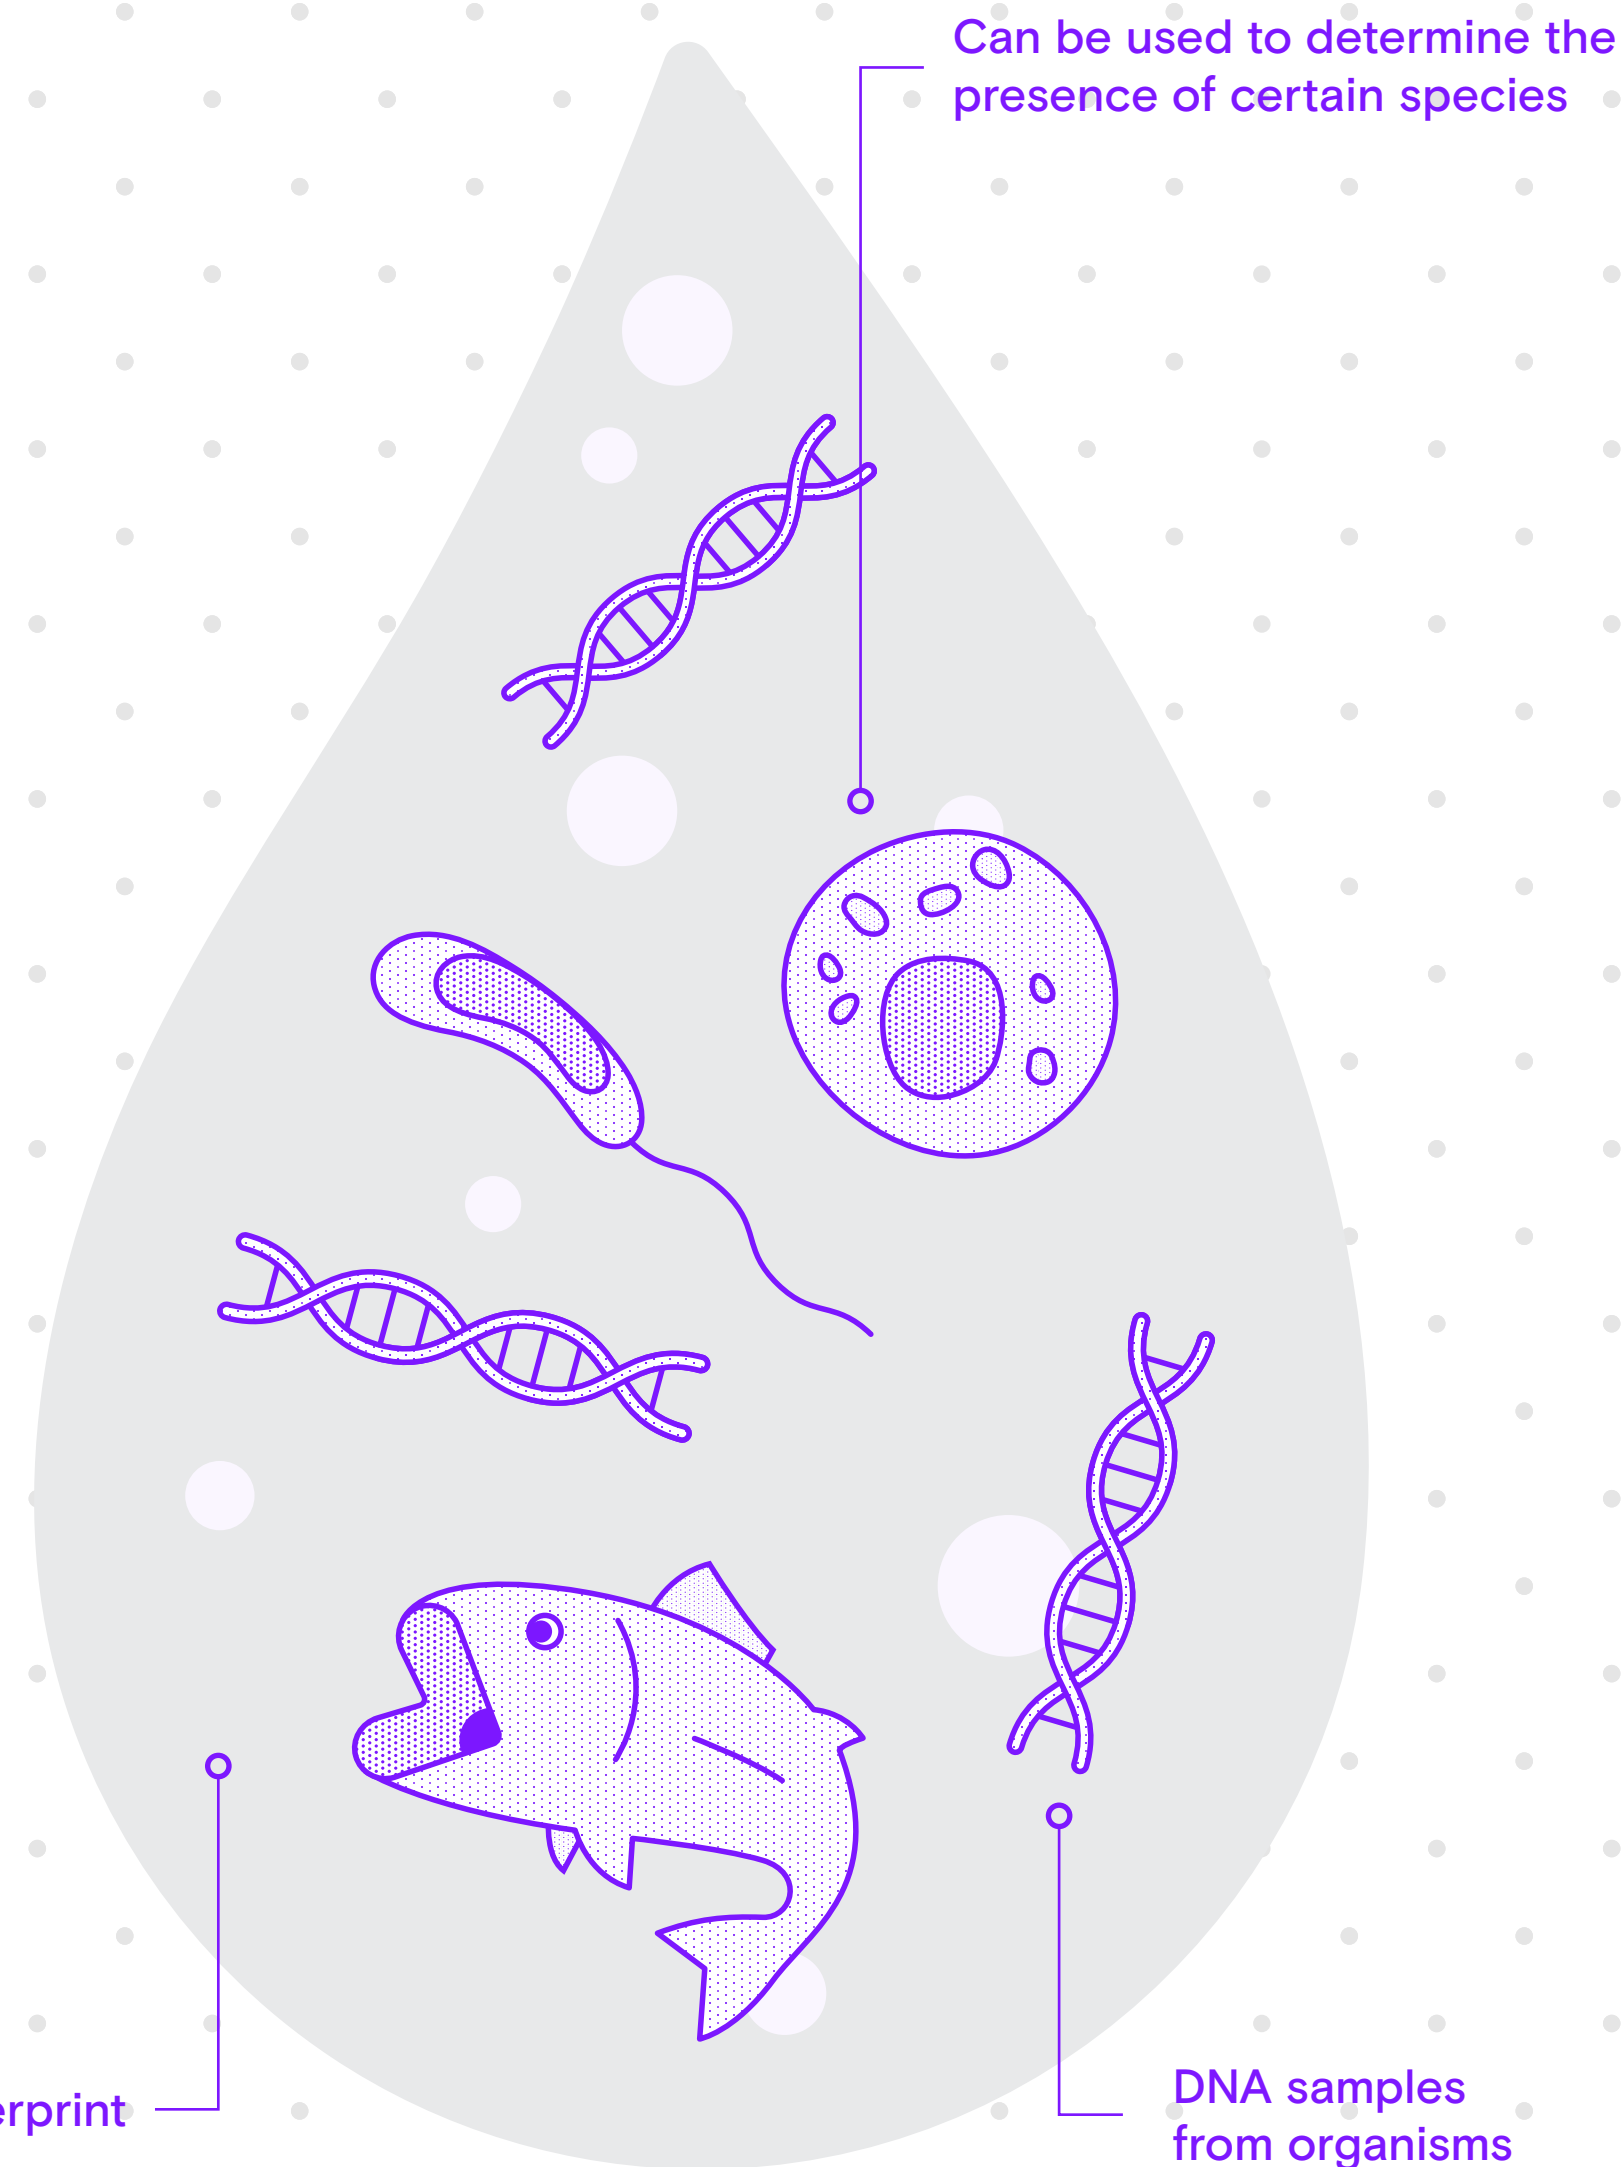

Automated environmental monitoring

The Norwegian Environment Agency aims to improve and increase the efficiency of environmental monitoring. With this Innovation Partnership they invited suppliers to develop a solution for automated environmental monitoring involving the use of environmental DNA.

Prevent the spread of harmful species

Protect species diversity

Lower financial costs

Pre-commercial Procurement

